SATURDAY'S BANK STATEMENT.

The current of trade has been greatly obstructed by the prevalence of the horse distemper and the consequent serious withdrawal of locomotive facili-ties; but toward the close of the week the latter its natural movement. The horse complaint was felt in Wall street in this way—it checked a number of money-bearing enterprises, not to speak of the deferment of cash transactions in merchandise and forced a good deal of fresh notes on the mar-ket, with the effect of stiffening the rates for COMMERCIAL PAPER, the prime grades of which, while quoted 9 a 12 per cent discount, were readily accessible at 11 a 12 pe laxation as the week progressed, and from 1per day on Monday there was a decline to 3 a per cent per annum on Saturday. Both of these wer extreme and exceptional rates. Money on call wit the pledge of the usual Stock Exchange collateral is fully worth 6 per cent. The banks are in a easier position, as shown both in the augmentatio of their reserve and in a more liberal accommods tion of borrowers. Indeed, with a surplus reserve of mainder of the year, and are likely to gain rather than lose strength in the immediate future, what with the weakness of the foreign exchanges, the steadhess of the domestic exchanges and the out-dow of November gold interest from the Treasury. So far as the foreign exchanges are concerned there is reason for believing that we shall witness. a considerable decline in them this Winter, despite the obstinate retention of the Eank of England rate at the minimum of 8 per cent. THE LONDON MONEY MARKET is actually easier than the bank figure, and Saturday's quotations for our five-twenties show a buoyancy in American securities which is only forerunner of an active demand for them when the cable announces to Europe on Wednesday morning the re-election of General Grant. A gain in specie by the banks of England and France the past week shows a turning point in the foreign monetary situation, and indicates that England, Prance and Germany are entering on a period of great financial case which will be only paralleled by the United States with the advent of the year 1873. The approaching Spring is likely to see a world-wide financial buoyancy, and doubtless a co-equal speculative activity. In this country the election of General Grant buries for four years any derangement of the currency or national finances. In Germany the imperial Treasury has commenced prepayment of the war loan, and will let loose about $80,000,000 of gold thalers by the first week in January. The Bank of France is phlethoric with money, and forcing it upon the BANK OF ENGLAND, while the latter, having girded up its loins to meet a danger which has now passed, is likely to be compelled to open its purse strings liberally or be ou stripped by the joint stock institutions, which, e street, and loaned money and made the rate for regardless of "the bank rate, mon." Naturally diverts us next to the stock speculation, which for the week, has been unsettled, with a gener fall in prices up to Thursday, a sudden rise Frid Year's, which has dampened the speculative arde the past week, and the feeling is doubtless en couraged by the clique, who are slowly loading

THE GREAT SPECILLATIVE CAMPAIGN America to great monetary easy and abundance the ensuing six months. As we have often r counted this Fall the signs are against any operation for a decline. The professional speculators atudy the situation, make up their mind as to the future of the market and act accordingly, but shrewdly and quietly. The oftener the outsiders are disconcerted and deceived the larger the success of the cliques. Hence the situation is often so painted and veiled as to induce opinions and con-victions the reverse of truth. So far as stocks are concerned the approaching election has had less influence upon them than upon gold, which declined 1½ per cent, taking the extremes of the week, the highest on Monday having been 113½, and the lowest, on Saturday, 111½. The sales toward the close were inspired by rumors that the Treasury would sell an extra amount of gold the reastry would sell all extra amount of gold the current month. The programme is expected from Washington this evening, and if received during the night will be found in another part of the paper. GOVERNMENT BONDS. The government bond market was lower with the decline in gold, and the business of the week on a diminished scale. THE SOUTHERN STATE BONDS.

THE BANK STATEMENT.

The weekly statement of the associated banks is favorable, but the changes are not important, except in loans, which show an expansion of over two millions, an enlargement of accommodation the mercantile interest, and is at the same time a reliable indication that the banks feel themselves in a safe position. The gain in surplus reserve is only $210,700; but any improvement in this respect is a matter for congratulation at this time of the year, when the reserves are apt to run very close upon the legal limit. Indeed, the banks in simply holding their own would have done much more than was expected of them. As it is they show a strength that has been seidom equalled at this time of the year and will stand to them in any emergency the ensuing sixty days, or until the

COAL STOCES AND THE ENGLISH COAL FAMINE. During the first month or six weeks Maryland coal stock has risen from 16 to 23 and Consolidation Coat from 42 to 47%. The following explanation is

Coal from 42 to 47%. The following explanation is furnished by the Washington Star:—

That the effect of the present high prices of coal in England is being sensibly felt in the United States is evident by the fact that within a few days past the Consolidation Coal Company of Georgetown has received orders, transferred from Liverpool, England, for large quantities of Cumberland coal to be shipped to Bombay, Point de Galle, Adea, East Indies; Madeira, Alexandría, Egypt; Rio Janeiro, Aspinwall, St. Thomas, Martinique, Havana, Valparaiso and several other distant points. This circumstance is unprecedented in the history of the Cumberland coal trade. The coal will be mainly shipped in foreign bottoms from Georgetown. The American bark Orient is now loading at the Consolidation Company's wharves for Aspinwall. In a few days quite a number of foreign vessels will doubtless be in the Potomac to fill the orders referred to. STOCKS ON SATURDAY.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Cotton Was Quiet for Spot and Active for Future; Market Weak—Flour Steady— Wheat and Corn Easter—Provisions Quiet—Petroleum Duil—Naval Stores

SATURDAY, Nov. 2—6 P. M.
The movement in general trade circles has been slow during the past week, but, all the adverse circumstances considered, the volume of business has been much larger than might reasonably have been anticipated. Taking into account the increased movement in some of the principal com-modities during the latter part of the week, the indications would seem to point to a much more active prosecution of business enterprise when the election and the horse epidemic shall have become "things of the past." Indeed, the crisis on the horse disease is already considered as past, and as the transportation of merchandise about the city is effected with greater facility than it was a week ago, this may be taken for granted. The election has caused a large num. ber of buyers from the West and other direction to postpone their annual or semi-annual visit to this city until after the 4th of November; and with the indux of buyers after that date it is only reasonable to expect an increase of the trade movement throughout the business marts of the city.
The fresh stimulus which the export movement in breadstuffs received within the past few days is a hopeful indication of the immediate future. To-day being Saturday the usual Saturday's quite obtained in most departments of trade, while the continued recession of the gold premium exerted a depressing influence on commercial values generally, but particularly upon merchandise more immediately connected with gold. On Change flour was quiet. Wheat was less active and scarcely so firm—some qualities being lower. Corn was also quiet. Pork was still nominal, but lower. Lard was steady. Cotton was in demand and easy. Groceries were quiet but firm. Petroleum was dull. Naval stores were steady, and whiskey was about 1/c. better.

Coppet.—The market remained very quiet for all descriptions, occasioned in part by the scarcity of desirable lots. Prices remained firm at the following figures. ## THE SARRATH OF THE STEEDS.

The Streets of the City Yesterday-Their De tion and Selitude—The Westher and the Worn-Out Horses—The Hippo-rhinorrhea Still Absting.

Happily yesterday proved a holiday for the equine race, as well as for men, women and chil-dren. It was a day to be honored, therefore, in the annais of the progress of civilization in the greatest city of the New World. Some time in the future that time will remark upon the heartless-ness of this period, and they will not be a little pleased to learn that, at least for once, the dumb creatures of burden were given A RESPITE VEOM POIL.

Doubtless the rain of vesterday was a good part of the cause of this sudden lumanity, and doubtiess Mr. Bergh's semi-peremptory commands had something to do with it besides. Through the drizzling mist there was only once in a while to be espied a carriage or other vehicle; but even these only occurred every five or six blocks, and the fares charged by the obliging Jehus were certainly as peculiar to the time and circumstances as could therefore, after putting a lady in a cab, walks calmly of, with his hands in his pockets, having a tacit understanding with the driver. One by these rambling conveyances are occupied. One by one the phiegmatic coachmen get their customers and drive off joyful, and the reporter saily walks his route. The long, grand stretch of Broadway is most magnificent at points which are not failing into disrepute because they lack fashionableness; but when the great thoroughfare is empty, as it was yesterday, the mixture of gloom and sublimity is too great and the pleasure is dissipated. Yet greater than when there is roaring through it a mighty torrent, because of its silent grandeur. Broadway and all the side parallel streets were still and empty as the ancient tombs of Egypt yes-terday. It was a Sabbath, indeed, for the poor, abused steeds. On the majority of the lines the street cars were stopped, and what stray ordinary street cars were stopped, and what stray ordinary vehicles might be observed later could easily be counted upon one's fingers. The Third Avenue line, true to its promise, ran only as far as Fifth street and the Cooper Institute from the depot yesterday. The Fourth Avenue only used a few cars—three or four—to meet the arrival of trains, and the East Broadway line employed a small number of cars and horses, The Eighth Ave-nue Railroad ran very frequently and so did the Bleecker Street. The other companies yesterday, with hardly any exception, were causing better hope of being able to use all of them in a very short time.

the street cars had all been arrested for some time, and to travel about the town for any distance is a matter of much difficulty; but the reports seem to show that the hipporhinorrhea is still growing less alarming among the majority of the horses, so that at the middle of the month it is hoped that it shall have entirely passed away and that commerce and public travel will resume their wonted channels, as if no such great affliction had ever disturbed them.

of man's most faithful servants yesterday was not quite so alarming as it was on Saturday. The wet weather was a warning to almost every horseman which, luckily, was faithfully observed, and the fortable stalls in peace and quietude, which really bettered their condition, not withstanding the gloom and dampness of the atmosphere and surround-ings. To-day, if the sky will but smile more blandly, the streets will doubtless exhibit an even liveller appearance than they did on Saturday, because the Sabbath of the poor horses has done more to re-store their health and spirits than loads of physic-

Febrequobronchistis in Hoboken. Traffic on the horse railroads was entirely sus-pended last evening. The disease is spreading rapidly in every direction and many horses have

Washington, Nov. 3, 1872.
The majority of the borses here are now suffering from the horse disease, and others have premonitory symptoms. Yesterday it made its appearance in the railroad stables in full force, were relieved from work. To-day none of the cars are running, the owners giving all their horses the benefit of rest. Blankets have been purchased in large quantities, in order to keep the horses warm. Particular attention is paid to this branch of the treatment and to cleanliness, and disinfectants are freely used in stables. Very few hacks and private carriages were on the streets to-day, and these from necessity.

The Horse Disease in Ulster County.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 3, 1872.
The horse disease is rapidly increasing in this city. Every livery stable is affected and closed, and a horse cannot be hired in the place. Some of the cases are very severe, but only one death has occurred. Very few private stables are unaffected, and horses are seldom seen upon the streets. It is rumored that the horse cars will stop to-morrow. Many kinds of business are greatly inconvenienced by the prevalence of the disease; but as yet the by the prevalence of the disease; but as yet the horses along the Delaware and Hudson Canal do not seem to be much affected. The disease has a very bad effect on the trade of the city, as the country people will not drive in town, for fear of their animals catching the epizootic. Reports from the rural villages say that the disease is prevailing there in equally great proportion to the city.
